Each Object A (input buffers) can be processed in parallel; however, for each object A, object Bs create Cs create Ds. Object D’s eventually are merged with and update Object Es. This needs to happen in same order as object A input.